SHRUBS WILL BE INSPECTED

Ogden Named One of Several Stations in State By P. O. Department

The following cities and towns in Utah have been designated places for terminal inspection of plant products shipped into the state, according to a letter received yesterday by G. A. Root, federal horticultural inspector from W. Irving Glover, third assistant postmaster general, Brigham City, Delta, Farmington, Heber, Logan, Ogden, Price, Provo and Salt Lake.

The letter is as follows: The state of Utah has established places of the terminal inspection, under the provisions of the act of March 4, 1915, embodied in section 478 1-4, postal laws and regulations, of the following plants and plant products:

"All florists' stocks, trees, shrubs, vines, cuttings, grafts, scions, buds, fruit pits and other seeds of fruit and ornamental trees or shrubs, and other plants and plant products in the raw or unmanufactured state, except vegetable and flower seeds. Provided, That this list of plants and plant products shall not apply to plants and plant products shipped under the certification of the federal horticultural board of the United States department of agriculture."

All postmasters are therefore informed that packages containing any plants or plant products addressed to places in the state of Utah may be accepted for mailing only when plainly marked so that the contents may be readily ascertained by an inspection of the outside thereof. The law makes the failure to so mark such packages an offense punishable by a fine of not more than $100.

Postmasters within the state of Utah shall be governed strictly by the provisions of paragraphs 3, 4, 5 and 6, section 478 1-4, postal laws and regulations, in the treatment of all packages addressed for delivery at their offices containing any of the plants or plant products above described as subject to terminal inspection.

INSPECTION SERVICE. Inspection service is maintained at the places in Utah named below, and all postmasters in that state shall, after receiving the required postage therefor, under the provisions of section 478 1-4, postal laws and regulations, send to the nearest inspection point each package containing plants or plant products subject to terminal inspection: Brigham, Delta, Farmington, Heber, Logan, Ogden, Price, Provo, Salt Lake City.

(Signed) W. IRVING GLOVER, Third Asst. Postmaster General.

700 ARTICLES TO BE SHOWN

Extensive Display to Be Made of Ogden Goods June 4 to 10

Ogden products will be displayed in at least 232 store windows of the Ogden business district during "Made-in-Ogden Week," June 4 to 10. These have been donated for the use of 113 manufacturers, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Progressive Business club committee in charge of the week's plans.

The plans are carried through as anticipated, the "Made-in-Ogden Week" of 1922 will be even greater than that of 1921, the initial year, with a wider range of exhibits, more displays and more prize awards.

200 ARTICLES TO BE SHOWN. Decoration of the composite window, in which it is expected fully 700 different Ogden-made articles will be shown, is to start early this week. The 16 windows in the De-Eccles building will be used for this display, which will include everything from glass eyes to a laundry stove, from a valuable fur coat to a slab of bacon, from fancy canned fruit to sugar making machinery.

Use of these windows has been donated by the Murphy Wholesale Grocery company, Admiral-Scott's auto accessory house and the management of the Berthana DISCUSS DETAILS.

Some of the final details for the week were considered yesterday at a conference of President Jim Scowcroft of the Progressive club, Chairman W. E. Zuppman and Secretary C. G. Ecklund of the "Made-in-Ogden Week" committee.

"A splendid spirit of cooperation between the manufacturers, merchants and others interested in Ogden's progress is being shown throughout the plans for this week," said Chairman Zuppman. "Hundreds of business men are joining in the plans to make the success absolutely certain. Placing of the displays will start on Monday and from that time until June 4, when all will be in place, there will be much activity as to Ogden products. The judging will be during the last three days of the week—June 8, 9 and 10—by five United Commercial Traveler delegates, who will be chosen as the judges."

NUMEROUS PRIZES. The numerous prizes that are to be awarded for the best windows, all donated by manufacturers, will be announced early in the week, together with the assignments of the various windows and the various displays. In a few instances there will be composite displays but it is expected that in most cases the exhibitors will concentrate each individual window on one line of goods. Uniform cards, each calling attention to Ogden-made goods, and each bearing the emblem of the Progressive Business club, are to be used in each window entered in competition.

President Scowcroft of the club said: "We anticipate complete success of the 'Made-in-Ogden Week,' with the finest and most varied displays that have ever been made of home products. The combination window in the De-Eccles building alone will be of educational value to Ogden citizens and all the displays will be interesting. The business men, financial men and professional men of the city, everyone, including manufacturers and merchants particularly, has been supporting the plans and working to make the week a success."

German seaports. Each week, when some of the larger ships sailing for New York are churning the waters of the canal, the propellers seldom fail to bring one or more bodies of seamen to the surface. In many cases it is believed the men have fallen into the canal while intoxicated, as there were no signs of violence.

This paint keeps the inside of your store white and clean

WHY do the walls and wood-work of store interiors collect dust and dirt so readily? The reason is that ordinary paint has a rough, porous surface. Smooth enough in appearance it is actually full of countless tiny pores and crevices in which dirt clings. Once soiled no washing or scrubbing can get it thoroughly clean.

Barreled Sunlight is a white paint made by a special process which produces a smooth, lustrous, unbroken finish that offers no lodging place for dust or dirt. A damp cloth will wash it clean as readily as tile.

This paint costs less than enamel, requires fewer coats and remains white longer. It is also much easier to apply. It flows readily and leaves no brush marks.

In hotels, apartments, restaurants, homes—all interiors wherever light and cleanliness are desired—use Barreled Sunlight.

Comes ready mixed in cans, from half-pint to five-gallon size—barrels and half-barrels.
